The Arizona State Fraternal Order of Police, the Arizona Labor Council, and the Arizona State Troopers Labor Council have brought Meet & Confer to the Department of Public Safety. Your voice in that bargaining process will be the DPS Labor Council. By state law, sworn and civilian employees must have play a part in the process, but each group has unique issues to address. The Arizona Labor Council anticipated such needs and structured its local bargaining units so each segment of an agency would be fairly represented by members of that group. The Arizona State Troopers Labor Council will play a vital role in the contract developed by the DPS Labor Council.
